Who I Love

'Blood is thicker than water.'

We make many relationships while we live,
but family must be the most important one for us

Other than that they are our family there is no reoson to put our family first, but we all do.

In that way,
I think 'a married couple' is very interesting.

We didn't share any same blood between us like mom, dad or sister.

Since we become a family
by marriage, the other becomes someone who is so important

One day,
I was talking with Mev
about things

We talked about the two people who I love the most.

I sometimes thought about this.

Then I realized that it wasn't something that I could in order.

Hehe. Yeah? How about this

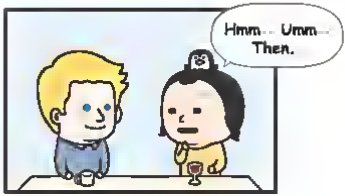
Mev asked me

Your mom and I are in the water
Who are you going to save when you can save only one?

Water..
Mom and you?



Hmm.. Umm..
Then.

This was one of the hardest question that I'd been asked for a while.

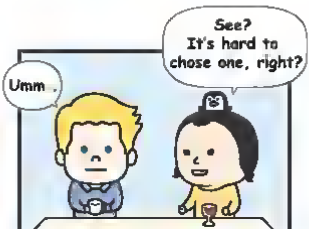
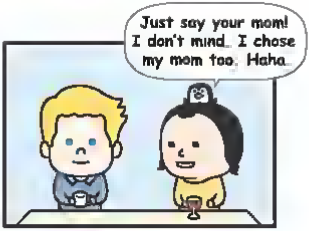
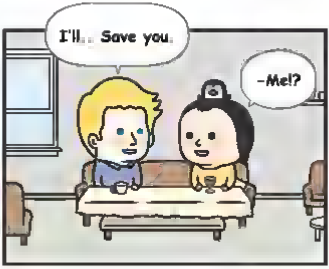
I also asked the same question to him.





After he thought about it a while, he answered me



I definitely think that love for a mom and love for a spouse are two different things

Hawever, I can't deny that I was pretty happy to hear his answer.

What an unexpected answer that was...

... Then, what is my mom?

... Because of my answer she sounds like someone that really wants to survive

This is what happened that day Haha..

If it really happens,
you must save Penguin!!
It shouldn't be me, OK?

Yes. Ha ha
So I said I would save you

Gosh,
you should save Mev,
not me!

Mommy's hearts...
